Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org

Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org

Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org

Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org

Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org

Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org

Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org

Group Guidelines

- Avoid anyone talking too long. Answers are to be brief.
- Focus only on this passage not on other people's ideas, or outside sources.
- Give people time to respond or "pass" if they so desire.

Facilitator Guidelines

- Ask the questions. Don't teach. Don't lead. Members can take turns facilitating.
- Sessions are 45 to 60 minutes. Complete all the questions.
- Group size is best at 3-5.
- If a statement is not about the passage, ask this question, "Where is that found in this passage?"
- Important: You must leave the group and no longer attend when the group can be facilitated by its members. Failure to do this will keep groups from multiplying.
- Members can start new groups with a person and those that person can invite.

Discover more at www.ancientpassages.org